

Previous awardee

1999:

*Avram Hershko, Aaron Ciechanover, Haifa, Israel
(Nobelpreisträger für Chemie 2004)*

2001:

Hanns Möhler, Zürich, Switzerland

2003:

Wolfgang P. Baumeister, München, Germany

2005:

Cynthia Kenyon, San Francisco, USA

2007:

Irving L. Weissman, Stanford, USA

2010:

William A. Catterall, Seattle, USA

2012:

Jean-Laurent Casanova, New York, USA

2014:

Alexander Levitzki, Jerusalem, Israel

2016:

Hans Clevers, Utrecht, The Netherlands

Madam, Sir,

The Board of the Ilse & Helmut-Wachter-Foundation of the Innsbruck Medical University is pleased to announce that the

Ilse & Helmut Wachter Award

will be presented for the tenth time in 2018. In order to celebrate this anniversary we appeal to you to support the intentions of the Foundation by nominating suitable candidates.

The award is for exceptional scientific achievements in all fields of medicine and is open to scientists of all nationalities. The winner will be determined from the worldwide nominations by the Organs of the Foundation; self-nominations will not be accepted. Nominations must be in writing and must include the curriculum vitae of the nominee, a list of his/her most important publications and a detailed report of the relevance of the scientific achievement, which is to be honoured. Nominations can be made by individual scientists as well as by institutions.

The value of the award is Euro 15000 and will be presented as a whole. The Award Ceremony will take place on 1st December 2018 at the Innsbruck Medical University.

Nominations should be forwarded to the Board of the Foundation before 15th May 2018.

*Professor Lukas Huber, M.D.
(Chairman of the Board)*